WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY

LESSON TEXT—Romans 12:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love worketh no ill to his neighbor, therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Obedience to Law.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Obedience to Law.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Reasons for Prohibition.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Standing for Law Enforcement.

I. The Christian's Obligation to the State (vv. 1-7).

The believer in Christ is a citizen as well as a Christian. Intelligent Christians will be loyal to the state as well as to the church. Failure to recognize this has brought Christianity into disrepute in many quarters.

1. Obedience to rulers (vv. 1-4).

This obligation is upon all Christians. The reason is that civil government is ordained of God and rulers are His representatives. To refuse obedience to civil authority is to resist God. This does not mean that a Christian at the behest of the state should do that which is inherently wrong. Submission to rightly constituted authority is the law of the believer's life, but only because God is the source of civil authority, but because it was ordained for beneficent ends.

2. The spirit in which the Christian renders obedience to rulers (v. 5).

He should regard it as his obligation, not merely because it serves a good purpose, but because it is morally right. It is a conscientious obligation to obey lawful rulers.

3. Method of expressing this obedience (vv. 6, 7).

(1) In the payment of personal and property taxes.

The citizens who enjoys the benefits of government is morally bound to support it.

(2) Payment of duty upon merchandise and license fees.

The business exchange between nations must be regulated. For such regulations expense is incurred, for which benefit the citizen should pay.

(3) Veneration of magistrates ("fear to whom fear").

Those who have the fear of God in their hearts will venerate their rulers, God's representatives.

(4) "Honor to whom honor."

This means that civil officers should be honored because of their service.

II. The Christian's Obligation to His Fellow Citizens (vv. 8-10).

This is summed up in the word "love." This obligation is perpetual. The only debt which is right to owe is that of love. The discharge of this obligation forbids:

(1) Defrauding in matters of property (v. 8).

(2) It forbids going into debt with no certainty of being able to meet one's obligation.

(3) It forbids defrauding in matters of moral purity (v. 9). Where the life is under the power of love, adultery cannot be committed.

(4) It forbids murder.

(5) It forbids stealing.

(6) It forbids coveting.

(7) It forbids the working of any ill to one's neighbor.

III. The Supreme Motive Governing the Life of the Christian (vv. 11-14).

The attitude of the Christian is that of eager expectancy. There is no time for slumber or indifference. The time of salvation is drawing near. The salvation here mentioned is not that which we obtain in justification and sanctification, but is that which we get when our redemption is completed in glorification at the second coming of Christ. Redemption is threefold:

1. Justification through faith in the blood of Jesus.

2. Sanctification through the obedience of the Word.

3. Glorification, when the fullness of redemption shall be realized at Christ's second coming.

The reasons for this attitude of expectancy are that the night of Christ's absence is far spent and the day of His glorious appearing is at hand. The proper conduct in view of this is:

1. To put off the works of darkness (v. 12), which are reveling, drunkenness, chambering, wantonness, strife and jealousy. The child of light will not walk in drunken carousals, will not practice licentious acts and debauchery, neither engage in strife, nor be under the spell of jealousy.

2. Put on the armor of light (v. 12). The figure here is of the Roman soldier who arose from sleep and put off his slumber robes and put on his gleaming armor.

3. Put on the Lord Jesus Christ (v. 14).

This means to enthrone Jesus Christ as the Lord of the life, to bring the life under His control.

Be Thou an Example

Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.—Tyndale.

FOREST VIEW

Real winter this morning, plenty of ice. It reminds us of cold winter days not far off.

The farmers are sowing wheat those who have not finished, and others are gathering what little corn they had left of the storms. Corn is very inferior.

Mr. T. H. Ford lost a good horse last week and W. T. Nash lost a fine milch cow near the same time. It is thought frost bitten green food was the cause.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cocke of Charlotte, were recent visitors in the home of N. D. Marshall.

Mrs. Z. M. Jones and son, Victor, visited her sick daughter, Mrs. Harris, in Charlotte last Sunday.

Mrs. J. A. Martin spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wooldrige.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Nash and children visited her sister, Mrs. Beasley, at Hollywood Sunday.

Mrs. Hunter Wooldrige of Lynchburg, returned to her home last Thursday after spending a few days with her father, T. J. Nash.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Evans and children of Campbell, also visited in this home Sunday.

B. C. Sims and family visited in the home of R. W. Martin last Friday nite.

Mr. Marvin Moses has treated himself to a new car.

How is the election? which is so near at hand—

STONEWALL

Stonewall is still on the map—ha!

A Hallowe'en frolic will be given at Stonewall school by School League Saturday nite for benefit of the "well fund". The program will consist of a short play, music, songs and stunts, ice cream, candy, popcorn and peanuts for sale. Come early everybody, young and old, married and single.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Jennings and sons, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Drinkard visited Mrs. Jennie Bondurant Sunday near Six Mile Bridge.

Joe Henry Whitten, who was quite ill last week, is improving.

Mr. J. H. Elder and family and Mr. G A. Jacobs and family of Richmond, recently visited Mr. C. M. Stratton Sr., and family.

Get your fortune told at Stonewall Saturday nite.

Friends of Miss Lina Carson will learn with regret that she is seriously ill in Lynchburg, where she went to consult a specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Irby Wheeler and sons were guests of Mrs. Jennie Bondurant Sunday.

Miss Virginia Chick was given a surprise party Saturday nite by quite a number of the younger set.

Mrs. Mollie Stratton of Lynchburg, visited Mrs. S. E. Anderson and family last week-end.

Mr. Emory Martin is entertaining a number of his friends today, Tuesday, with a corn shucking.

Misses Lucy Chick and Frances Coleman of Spout Spring, were week-end guests of Miss Margaret Neighbors.

PAMPLIN

Your correspondent is very glad to report news from Pamplin again. Everything is moving nicely here. People are excited over the political situation and we will all be glad when the election is over and "Herb" is our President.

There is right much sickness around, Mrs. Rexy Southall is ill at this time.

We all regret to learn of the death of Mr. E. L. Hamilton. This was a fine young man and in his youth he was taken. We extend to his wife and four small children our most heartfelt sympathy.

The Bible Study Circle met at the home of Mrs H. T. Terry on Tuesday afternoon. An interesting program was rendered which had been carefully prepared by Mrs. R. D. Baldwin, who was leader for the evening. Refreshments were served by hostess assisted by Mrs. John H. Couch of Chapel Hill and Mrs. Lillie Moses. Mrs. T. N. Ranson is president of this organization.

Mrs. R. D. Baldwin had as her Sunday guests her daughter, Mrs. Humphrey Younz and son of Crewe. Dick Young is here attending school.

Mrs. John H. Cancle, of Chapel Hill, N. C., is the guest of Mrs. H. T. Terry.

Mrs. R. L. Terry, of Richmond has been visiting friends in Pamplin.

Miss Edwina Carwile, who teaches in Wilson, N. C., spent the week-end with her parents.

Mrs. Clyde Rice and two children are the guests of Misses Lucy and Lee Rice.

The W. M. U. of M. E. church met at the high school last Tuesday. Mrs. C. E. Massey is President of this Union.

Mrs. J. J. Fore is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wiley Richardson.

Miss Grace Richardson, who has been visiting relatives in Petersburg has returned home.

Miss Ilene McClenny, teacher of Rocks School, spent the week-end at home.

Mrs. W. B. Duling, who has been critically ill is slowly improving.

A Halloween supper was given at auditorium Tuesday nite for benefit of school and was quite a success.

The ladies of the Baptist church will give an oyster and meat supper on November 22rd for benefit of church.

Mrs. Lillie Moses had as her recent guests Mrs. Nettie Mann of Appomattox and Miss Martin of Petersburg.

Giants of California Imperiled by Tourists

Yosemite National Park, Calif.—Ancient mythologists tell of gods slain by their worshipers; and something of the kind is happening in the Big Tree grove of Mariposa county, where thousands of tourists are unconsciously destroying that which they come hundreds of miles to admire.

At the request of the National Park service, Dr. E. P. Meinecke, United States forest service plant pathologist, has investigated the present status of the cherished sequoias and has reached the conclusion that long-continued and heavy trampling of human feet has destroyed the roots endings and finer roots of many of the trees. Without these of course the trees are unable to absorb water and mineral nutrients from the soil.

The rescue of Grizzly Giant, one of the finest big trees in existence, from a similar fate about twenty-five years ago, is recalled. Trampling had destroyed its endings, and friends of the trees were at a loss to know what to do. Finally it was suggested by George T. Harlow, at that time guardian of the grove, that the soil surrounding the tree be loosened somewhat and that additional soil be placed around the tree and over the roots to a height of three or four feet. The experiment, though ridiculed at the time, proved entirely successful, and the old tree was restored to health.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A talent called Rexall Orderlies attacks constipation from the system thru the key. They relieve the bowels in a gentle manner. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlies at night. Next day you'll feel fine. Get 24 for the today at nearest Rexall DRUG STORE.—CHAS. T. JAMES.

LOST
Time from Work

Mr. Albert Garland, of Somerset, Ky., recently said:
"I used to work in the mines, but lost quite a bit of time on account of sick spells I had. I would get to having a bad taste in my mouth, and a very dull, tired feeling and ache.
"My mother told me to try Black-Draught, which I did, and after a few doses I felt much better. Now I take it as soon as I feel the least bad, and I don't get down. I certainly can say that it has done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken.
"I never get without Black-Draught. If I go on a visit, I take a package along in my suitcase. My health is better now than it has been in years."
Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality. Price 25c. Try it.

Carson Reunion

The seven sons of the late Thomas R. and Mary Anne Carson, and one sister, Mrs Bernard Chick, with their families gathered at the old home place near Concord Depot, Appomattox county, Sunday afternoon, October 21, for a reunion. A most elaborate dinner was served in the grove near the house.

After reminiscing many stories of childhood days, religious exercises in keeping with the occasion were held presided over by Rev. A. L. Carson in which Rev. E. V. Carson had a prominent part. Everyone joined in the singing of two favorite old hymns, "Bless be the tie that binds", and "God be with you till we meet again."

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Carson and daughter, Hazel, of Richmond; E. V. Carson, Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lester Carson, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Burnette, Appomattox; Maude Burnette, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Carson, Eugene Roberts, E. P. FORTUNE IN PEARLS STOLEN FROM TOMBS

Burial Places of Imperial Manchus Desecrated.

Peking—At least 65 pounds of large pearls of the finest luster were looted from the Imperial Manchu tombs at Ling, according to a report which the Peking Chamber of Commerce has made to the local military authorities.

Of this total there are now 173 fine pearls in possession of Peking curio and jewel merchants, and these are to be given to the Chamber of Commerce president at once for safe keeping until the Nanking government decides what is to be done with them. They may be returned to the desecrated tombs or they may be sold for the benefit of the colony of 50,000 Manchus who live around the tombs and who now are destitute.

The lowest estimate of the value of the loot from the tomb is $17,000,000, and from this minimum the estimates run clear up to $50,000,000.

As yet no trace has been found of the two "jade melons" which were buried in the coffin of the famous Empress Dowager of Boxer days, Tzu Hsi. These "jade melons" were globular pieces of the finest apple-green jade, each about the size of an average cantaloupe. They were both richly encrusted with inlaid diamonds and emeralds of great size, and they rank among the most valuable pieces of jewelry in the world.

Already myth and superstition are playing their part in the tales told about the violation of the Manchu tombs by former northern troops who, at the time of the outrage, had "gone over" to the Nationalists.

An Imperial Looter.

Many of the "old style" residents of Peking, the Chinese of classical culture, assert that while death should be meted out to the looters of the tomb of the Empress Dowager, no punishment should be inflicted upon those who were concerned only in the looting of the tomb of the Emperor Chien Lung.

Chien Lung, who was the Louis XIV of China and who enjoyed the longest and most illustrious reign of any Chinese emperor, is said to have looted the tombs of the Mings, who preceded the Manchus as imperial rulers. The looting of Chien Lung's tomb is, therefore, declared to be merely "heavenly justice" manifesting itself after the lapse of more than a century and a half.

History affords no proof of the charge that Chien Lung violated the Ming tombs, nor does the present condition of these magnificent mausoleos support the story of his guilt, but for many decades it has been rumored that many of Chien Lung's treasures and jewels were secretly taken from the tombs of the dynasty which preceded his own.

The common people of Peking now tell, with bated breath, how a mysterious sign of heavenly displeasure saved from violation the tomb of Kang Hsi, the emperor who ruled for nearly 60 years from the middle of the Seventeenth century to the early years of the Eighteenth.

Carried "Credentials."

The tale goes that after looting the tomb of the Empress Dowager and that of Chien Lung the thieves started to open the tomb of Kang Hsi and were startled when a spring of muddy water, "the color of imperial yellow," gushed forth. Within a few minutes the thieves found themselves ankle deep in this mysterious flood, and then they fled in terror.

Mr. Liu Jen-ho, the man appointed by Nanking to make an investigation of the looted mausoleos, reports that the tombs underwent a second looting by a man named Sung Yuming.

This person Sung, soon after the news of the looting got abroad, appeared at the Tung Ling tombs carrying what looked like a letter of appointment and credentials qualifying him as "custodian for the Nanking government of the Tung Ling tombs."

Sung's credentials were not questioned at first, and he hastened to remove from the tombs 242 bronze idols and ten fine picture scrolls from the brush of Emperor Chein Lung himself.

Most of the bronze idols have been found by the Peking police, but the invaluable scrolls have disappeared, as has the much-sought Sung Yuming.

Man Wears Same Pair of Shoes for 36 Years

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Thirty-six years with the same pair of shoes is the record on which Christ Moeller, eighty-six, says he will stand. "They are the most comfortable shoes I ever have had," Moeller insists. The shoes are made of wood, 6 by 14 inches. They can be used for house slippers, work shoes, and Sunday shoes, the wearer says.

Time Saving Recipes

"I MUST hurry home and get dinner. How often have you heard someone break up a pleasant party with those words? Of course, there has to be a dinner to satisfy hungry appetites, but there are meals which can be prepared in a minimum of time and they are the ones to plan when you expect to be out the whole afternoon.

One of the secrets of time saving is to use canned meats or fish. Vienna sausage, roast beef, corned beef, veal loaf, salmon, tuna fish and oysters come in cans. Canned vegetables and fruits, too, will save many minutes of laborious peeling and cooking. Their use means that the main ingredients of your menu are already prepared.

A Half-Hour Menu

The following menu can be prepared easily in half an hour and is filling enough for even the hungriest little boy: Tuna Fish au Gratin, Buttered Peas, Boiled Potatoes, Hot Biscuits and Jelly, Tomato and Lettuce Salad, Fruit Compote, Cookies.

The peas are heated in the juice from the can, and then seasoned with butter, pepper and salt. By slicing the potatoes thin and boiling them in a tightly covered vessel they will cook in ten or fifteen minutes. And biscuits, of course, take only a few minutes to prepare.

To prepare the fish, shred contents of a large can of tuna. Melt two tablespoons butter, stir in two tablespoons flour, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and one-half teaspoon salt. Add one cup of milk gradually and stir until thick; add one cup grated cheese and stir until melted. Combine with the fish, pour into a buttered baking dish, cover with one-fourth cup buttered crumbs and brown a few minutes in a very hot oven.

A can of fruits for salad can be left to chill in the ice box during the day and will make a delicious compote for dessert. Or you might use canned pie that had been made in the morning.
